SLAVS ARE ON THE OFFENSIVE

Make Movement Against Germans on Three Points in Galicia

CLAIM A BIG VICTORY

Serbian Continue Retirement Before Allied Invaders in the North and Northeast

London, Eng., Nov. 5.—Having checked the German offensive along the whole eastern front, except directly west of Riga, where the nature of the ground makes an advance difficult, the Russians have started a counter-offensive at three points—west of Dvinsk, on the Styr, in Volhynia, and on the Stripa, in Galicia. On the Stripa River, they claim to have won a great victory and to have captured 5,000 prisoners, although admitting that the battle is still in progress. They also claim successes at other points.

The Germans, on their side, assert that all the attacks have been repulsed with heavy losses to the Russians in killed, wounded and prisoners.

From an unofficial source it also is reported that the Russians are advancing in strong force, and have captured important positions near Czernowitz—a movement calculated more than anything else to influence Roumania.

The Serbians, who are making a stand in the south, where they are supported by the British and French, continue their retirement before the Austro-German forces and Bulgarians in the north and northwest. The Bulgarians are now within ten miles of Ash, and are advancing northwestward from Uspuk toward Pristina. Thus, besides being in danger of losing their capital, the Serbians are threatened with being cut off from the south, and will have only one line of retreat, to Montenegro. They are fighting severe rear guard actions, nevertheless, and are leaving little or nothing behind for the invaders.

The fighting continues in the Champagne district of France, with the fortunes of war fluctuating.

While the Italians persist in their offensive the Austrians claim that no progress has been made by their adversaries.

London, Nov. 5.—After two days and a night of furious fighting, the Germans remain in possession of part of the French lines on hill No. 109, north of Masiges. On a small front one of the most terrific engagements of the war has been fought here, according to all accounts reaching London. The French communiqué received tonight describes the final German assault as a "fierce" Earlier reports told of the use of blazing liquids and flaming screens by the Germans.

Early in the day the French succeeded in driving the Germans out of nearly all the positions they captured. Keeping up their attacks, the last Teuton finally was expelled. But hardly had the French reoccupied the positions when a wave of gray-coated Teutons swept down upon them, and they again were forced to fall back. The Germans, Paris officially admits, remain in possession of the trenches they won in that last fierce drive.

Furious artillery actions are being waged along the Lille road, where the French recently gained a success, and in Belgium, where the Teuton positions are being subjected to a violent bombardment. The Givenchy sector of Artois also was the scene of a duel of the big guns.

London, Nov. 5.—An artillery duel was in progress virtually all day at Valandovo, in the Strumitsa region, between the French and the Bulgarians, a Reuter dispatch from Saloniki states.

The Serbians are reported to be retiring in good order from Tetova before a numerically superior force.

In Babuna Pass, which protects the road to Prilip and Monastir, the Serbians continue to repel furious assaults by the Bulgarians. At present both Prilip and Monastir are safe, although uneasiness prevails throughout the Monastir region.

Generally speaking, the dispatch states, the situation of the Serbians

PRESIDENT'S SPEECH

Guest of Honor at Manhattan Club
Last Night

New York, Nov. 5.—President Wilson delivered speech before the Manhattan Club last night. Among other things he said:

"We shall, I confidently believe, never again take another foot of territory by conquest."
"We have in mind to be prepared, but not for war, but only for defense. The mission of America in the world is essentially a mission of peace and good will among men."
"This plan (to be laid before Congress in his next message) calls for the training within the next three years of a force of 400,000 citizen soldiers, to be raised in annual contingents of 133,000."

"No thoughtful man feels any panic haste in this matter. The country is not threatened from any quarter. She stands in friendly relations with the world."

"Let no man create divisions where there are none."

"We should rebuke not only manifestations of racial feeling here in America, where there should be none, but also every manifestation of religious and sectarian antagonism."

AUTOMOBILE KILLS TWO

Boy Masquerader Crushed; Lamp Brackets Tear Young Man.

Toms River, N. J., Nov. 3.—While joining in the frolic of masked Halloween merrymakers Monday night, Edward, 9 year old son of Harry Grover, darted from the side of his mother to recover his hat that another child, and flung in the street, fell under the wheels of a heavy automobile, and was crushed so that he died later.

Egg Harbor, N. J., Nov. 3.—With his right lung and liver punctured, Joseph Thackera, aged 21, of Philadelphia, yesterday was brought to the office of Dr. Boyzen, where he died a few minutes later. With Frank and Walter Cooper, of Philadelphia, Thackera was on his way to visit his uncle in Parkertown, near Barnegat. Near Greenback, the machine swerved and struck a fence post and Thackera was hurled upon two iron prongs to which one of the headlights of the machine was fastened, the metal entering his body.

Although fatally injured, he remained conscious and crawled against the road, seated himself against a fence and attempted to stop the flow of his blood.

TAFT WOULD SPANK 'EM.

That's The Way to Deal With Striking Pupils, He Says.

New York, Nov. 5.—Ex-President W. H. Taft, addressed a gathering of 250 pupils of the Horace Mann School for Boys, yesterday and told them of the responsibilities of American citizenship. He urged them to have respect for the law and unfolded the advantages under which the boys of the present generation are living that were not dreamed of by the boys of 100 years ago.

"There is too much of a tendency today to despise and criticize conditions in the country," he said. "This is not justified. Conditions are better than certain people are trying to make them."

Mr. Taft frowned on the example of school children who went out on strike because they did not like a teacher, a principal or a method of instruction. He called this silly and said his remedy was a spanking. This was enthusiastically applauded.

RUNS TO DEATH BEFORE CAR.

Lewisburg, Pa., Nov. 5.—Lewisburg's first fatal automobile accident occurred yesterday afternoon, when Pearl Grenoble, aged 5 years, the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Grenoble, was instantly killed, when struck by an automobile owned by Nicholas Schneider, a hotel man from Shamokin, and driven by Cornelius O'Brien. Besides O'Brien in the car was Mrs. Schneider, Mrs. Frank Caldwell, all of Shamokin, and Miss Florence Richards, of Philadelphia.

The child was crossing Lewisburg's new-paved street, and ran directly in front of the car. The parents witnessed the accident through the window of their jewelry store.

is extremely critical, but it is declared that if they are able to hold out a little longer, the situation will change as allied re-enforcements are being moved rapidly forward.

BRITISH MOVE ON BULGARIA

Two Divisions of Troops
Said to be on Way From Saloniki

OTHERS ENTRAINING

Russian Arrangements to Strike Bulgan From the Northward Rumanian Attitude

Athens, Nov. 5.—Two divisions of British troops are on their way from Saloniki today to the Bulgarian frontier.

More soldiers are entraining to follow the initial force.

The force, by a short overland march, can make its crossing into Bulgaria from the south near Strumitsa or continuing by rail, reach the eastern border near the Aegean Sea coast in the vicinity of Xanthi.

Inasmuch as French troops are already operating about Strumitsa, the former destination is deemed the more likely.

It is considered certain that the plan is to divert the Bulgarians from their operations in Serbia by a formidable invasion of their own country.

From the British forces move in Bulgaria's direction it is surmised here that assurances had reached England of completed Russian arrangements to strike the Bulgarians from the northwest.

This seems to be borne out by news that Roumania has refused the German request to intern two Russian torpedo boats in the Danube, on the ground that navigation of the river is free and consequently not in violation of Roumanian neutrality.

The Roumanian attitude is a good, from the Czar's standpoint, as permission to send his troops through Roumania, since by a 150-mile journey by boat up the Danube, a landing can be made on Bulgarian soil. It is thought no time will be lost by the Russians in taking advantage of his route.

ANOTHER CRISES IN GREECE

Cabinet Resigns After Vote in Parliament Yesterday

Athens, Nov. 5.—Following its defeat in parliament yesterday the cabinet resigned.

The immediate cause of the defeat was a remark made by War Minister Yanakitsas, which was considered by former Premier Venizelos as insulting to the national assembly. Mr. Venizelos demanded an immediate apology.

Premier Zaimas thereupon declared the government stood behind the war minister, and demanded a vote of confidence.

The vote resulted in 114 ballots for and 147 against the Zaimis ministry, three members of the chamber of deputies not voting.

After Premier Zaimis handed his resignation to King Constantine, the deputies again assembled and there was a striking demonstration in honor of former Premier Venizelos.

Greek entrance into the war is regarded here as almost certain to follow the overthrow of the cabinet.

Eleutherios Venizelos, whom Zaimis succeeded and who probably will in turn succeed the latter, is known as a war advocate. Indeed, it was for this reason that King Constantine, who favors continued Greek neutrality, forced his resignation.

The presumption is that back in Greece he will force the country into the struggle quickly.

Nevertheless it is recalled that King Constantine has twice prevented this.

An Athens dispatch says that the entire press, as well as the political leaders, predict dissolution of the chamber.

EXPLOSION ON BRITISH SHIP.

Police Attempt to Couple it With $50,- 000 Cotton Fire in New York.

New York, Nov. 4.—Ten minutes after all the crew had left the British ship Euterpe last night a terrific explosion occurred.

It tore open the hatch and caused a fire in the first hold.
The explosion shook the whole South Brooklyn water front in the vicinity of Erie Basin, where the Euterpe was moored.

The ship is under charter to the British government, and was to have sailed on Saturday with a cargo of sugar.

Secret Service men began an immediate investigation. One Secret Service man, who had been working in alleged German bomb plots, was sent to Brooklyn to take charge of the investigation.

Efforts are being made to couple the explosion with a $50,000 cotton fire in the Red Hook warehouse of the New York Dock Company, early yesterday morning.

These were yesterday's startling developments in the bomb plot investigation.

1. The discovery that eighteen secret arrests have been made by the Hudson Boulevard police, with the cognizance of the United States Secret Service and the New York police department.

2. The prisoners are believed to be parts of the mechanism waged against the entente powers by a central German authority with headquarters in New York or New Jersey.

3. Some of the prisoners have confessed that the campaign was planned with the object of crippling commodities of all description designed to be of service to the allies on the battle fronts.

CASE OF WHITELOCK

German Government Provoked by His Publications

Washington, Nov. 5.—The belief in official circles that Brand Whitlock, United States Minister to Belgium, is returning to his country at the suggestion of the administration because his position in Belgium was untenable received material support yesterday.

From an authoritative source information was obtained concerning Mr. Whitlock's recent explanation to the State Department. It shows that he made some interesting admissions.

Mr. Whitlock said:
"First—The German government was provoked by the publication of his report on the execution of Miss Edith Cavell, the English nurse, by Great Britain."

Second—the resentment of the German government was intensified by the fact that German officials were criticized by name.

Third—His report to Ambassador Page at London was intended as a confidential document.

Fourth—Although he knew it would be communicated to the British government, he believed the British government would use it only for its information.

As this was interpreted by officials who are acquainted with the situation it means that Mr. Whitlock was made to realize the displeasure of the German government at developments, and that he did not provide against the publication of the report by Great Britain, and thereby allowed an embarrassing incident to arise.

It was ascertained definitely yesterday that neither Mr. Whitlock nor Ambassador Page took any precaution to prevent Sir Edward Grey publishing to the world criticisms by American diplomats of German policy in Belgium.

So far as it is possible to ascertain Ambassador Page has not been asked to explain why he did not forestall the publication.

CROPS ARE CUT DOWN

Drastic Regulations Limiting Consumption of Food Indicate Desperate Plight of Nation

London, Nov. 5.—Entirely upon the evidence of their own latest official publications, it is manifest that the German food situation on the threshold of the second winter of the war is much more serious than in November, 1914.

The iron grip of the British fleet, and particularly the activities of Admiral Jellicoe's submarines in the Baltic, are making themselves felt, say the British, as never before.

A year ago it was unnecessary for the Kaiser's government to resort to any more stringent regulations than the introduction of bread cards and restriction on breadstuffs in general on the ration basis. Such steps were found advisable even at the end of the more than average good 1914 harvest, and while Germany was in possession of a vast reserve of American cereals imported as long before the war as April and May.

This year it was hoped the extraordinary extensive seeding and planting and the conversion of every available acre into agricultural land, would produce crops which would provide the country with as generous a supply of farm products as Germany had on hand in November a year ago. The Government figured that the harvest would be able to tide over another winter and spring as successfully as before. But the 1915 German crops fell little short of failure. Despite the unprecedentedly large acreage only the potato harvest was above normal.

The months of relentless drouth or the threshold of the harvest time completely obliterated the prospects of the expected bumper yield. The result is, according to the best information available here, that while it would exaggerate to assert that the Germans are face to face with starvation, they confront by far the gravest food conditions whereof they have had to deal during the entire period of the war.

The food laws decreed by the Imperial government, which are coming into force this week, certainly seem to tell their own story. They provide for putting the Germans on rations in practically all the great necessities of life.

The regulations for the restriction of the consumption of meat in the restaurant and the sale of it in butcher shops are the most drastic in the history of the empire, if not in the history of any country. Potatoes have practically been converted into a state monopoly.

The maximum price is fixed for butter at an unheard of high figure 65 cents a pound, and soon will be for oleomargarine, cheese, eggs, lard and similar commodities. The introduction of official butter cards, on the bread ration system is imminent. Milk commands prices which the socialist press declares, practically puts it beyond the reach of the poorer classes.

The municipality of Berlin has already taken steps to insure that sufficient quantities at normal cost shall at least be available for nursing mothers, infants, invalids and others to whom milk is a necessity. Even fish, poultry and game are being subjected to official price regulation.

The newspapers have been permitted to discuss the food situation with considerable freedom. All agree the German Government waited too long to grapple with the problem. It is the consensus of opinion that the agrarian element in the Prussian provinces the so-called "junkers" who long waged war on American meats and grain, are almost as much responsible for the prevailing state of affairs as the natural condition imposed by the war.

The land barons are openly accused of exploiting the nations hunger and practising food hoarding. The Socialists declare the junkers' speculative machinations in the meat and breadstuffs market are of so criminal a character that if they weren't the props of the throne and the pillars of the government, they would have long ago been severely dealt with as enemies of Germany no less dangerous than the armed foes the Kaiser's legion are facing at the front.

The agricultural monopolist retort that conditions for which they are not responsible have necessitated abnormal produce of all kinds. They point to the fact that Germany is ordinarily dependent on Russia for fodder for her cattle, and this is entirely shut off. The consequence is that much produce which was customarily converted into human food must now feed the animals, unless Germany's already diminishing supply of cattle and pigs is to be still further decimated.

YEGGMAN CAPTURED

Thrilling Scenes in New York Street
Yesterday

New York, Nov. 5.—Four alleged yeggmen, with a complement of burglars' tools in their possession, were arrested by detectives this afternoon after a thrilling mile auto chase through the most congested part of First avenue.

For twenty blocks a big police automobile, containing four detectives, chased another machine, while the detectives fired shot after shot at the fugitives.

The chase started at First avenue and Second street and ended at First where, in the presence of an excited crowd of pedestrians, the alleged yeggmen sprang from their car, and fought furiously with the police pursuers before being finally subdued.

The police found one of the most complete kits of up-to-date burglar's tools ever seen here. It consisted of expensive electric drills of the finest quality steel, two "can openers" for use on refractory safes, a supply of nitroglycerin and fuses.

Funeral services for Alexander Lyles, who died Wednesday morning were held this afternoon and were conducted by the Rev. W. F. Watson, D. D. Members of R. E. Lee Camp attended.

Belgians Claim Kaiser Has Paid For Only Small Part of Goods He Has Requisitioned

Amsterdam, Nov. 5.—The Chamber of Commerce of Antwerp has issued a report written by its president, E. Castellin, outlining the steps which the Belgian provinces had taken to pay the German war levy of 480,000,000 francs ($96,000,000). The report states:

"The Belgian provinces have just paid the German administration the ninth monthly instalment of the war levy of 480,000,000 francs. They have up to date actually paid out 360,000,000 francs. It therefore, remains to our provinces in order to free our country completely from the heavy burden imposed upon her after four months of invasion and devastation to make monthly payments for September, October and November, 1915—that is, another 120,000,000."

"These facts show that for the past nine months Belgium has most scrupulously met the engagements made in her name at the time of the convention relating to war contributions. This convention is, however, of an entirely reciprocal character. Moreover if Belgium has fulfilled her obligations, the German administration is very much behind with its."

"I had the honor to report to the International Commission in March last on the subjects of requisitions on mass which had been imposed on the trade of Antwerp. These requisitions reached an enormous figure, embracing the total amount of stock in our warehouses and stores accumulated there at the time of the occupation of our town by German troops."

The actual figures of the requisitions passed 85,000,000 francs. Five months more have passed since I described the situation in my report of March, without the smallest improvement in that situation. Payment received since then do not represent a tenth part of the sums still owing. May I also persuade myself to call these so-called 'payments' advances representing some 30 to 50 percent. of bills, advances made by credits in marks payable at the Reichsbank, recoverable three months after the conclusion of peace."

MUZZLING THE PRESS.

Reporters Pledged to Write No Mallative Offensive to Berlin.

London, Nov. 5.—New regulations imposing unprecedented restrictions on foreign newspaper correspondents in Germany have been promulgated in Berlin, according to a Mail dispatch from The Hague.

Correspondents, it is said, have been required to sign a paper virtually binding themselves to send nothing offensive to Germany, and must promise that their telegrams will not be altered by the editors receiving them, as well as that no headlines unfavorable to Germany will be printed above them.

The dispatch asserts correspondents further must agree to remain in Germany until the end of the war. They must file hereafter three copies of each dispatch, one to be kept by the foreign office and another at the headquarters of the general staff.

Grand Royal Arch Chapter of State
Aids Memorial Temple
November

Two other large contributions have been reported to the local committee of Alexandria-Washington Lodge of Masons as having been made to the fund for the erection in this city of the memorial temple to George Washington, the first master of the Alexandria Lodge. The Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons of Virginia made a contribution of $500 for the temple fund. A similar contribution was made by the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of Virginia. Both of these organizations met in Richmond last week. It is expected that when the grand lodge of Masons meets in Richmond in February an appropriation of $5,000 will be made to the same fund.

The raising of funds for the temple is in the hands of a new and more active committee of which Clarence P. King of Washington, is chairman. This committee is bending all of its efforts to raising $100,000 by the next meeting of the Association on February 22nd, 1916. When the initial $100,000 is raised an appeal will be made to all Masons in the United States for small contributions. It is expected that the temple will cost between $500,000 and 1,300,000.

UNION SERVICES

Rev. L. M. Ferguson Delivers Impressive Discourse Last Night.

Union Evangelistic Services were held in the First Baptist Church, last night, and Rev. L. M. Ferguson, pastor of Trinity M. E. Church, preached the sermon. His text was taken from the parable of the King's invitation to the marriage feast of his son, and from the words "and they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his farm, and another to his merchandise."

He said this parable teaches our Heavenly Father's invitation to his blessed salvation and the way people treat it today. He emphasized the fact that the invitation expressed the kindness, graciousness and great desire of God to have men saved. He explained at length the meaning to make light of in two senses, first to fail in placing a proper value on a thing and in estimating great things to allow the world or personal pursuits to outweigh the transcendent issue of the soul's eternal salvation. He made an earnest appeal for all to accept the invitation and be present at the last day.

Services this evening at 7:30; prayer meeting 7:15.

Sweeney was introduced, and delivered a brief address to parents and teachers.

Reports of the committees followed. Mrs. Chambers, chairman of the executive committee, and Mrs. Swan, chairman of the social committee, gave most satisfactory accounts of these two branches of the association. An excellent paper on "Alms and Purpose of the Parent-Teacher Association" was read by Miss Ruppert in a most forceful manner, and a vocal solo was charmingly rendered by Miss Marian Lindsey.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served and a number of new members added to the roll.

GERMANY'S FINANCES

The Norfolk Virginian-Pilot in answer to inquiries concerning the methods used in Germany in financing the present war says:

In outline the German system is an amplification of that resorted to by the United States in the early stages of the War of Secession, the issuance of paper currency, receivable for certain dues and taxes to the government, vested with the quality of legal tender, but carrying no definite promise of redemption at a fixed date.
The difference is that the German issue is unlimited in quantity by law or decree, is the only medium of exchange allowed to be used in domestic transactions between subjects of the Empire, is accepted by the government without discount in settlement of all dues and taxes and for all subscriptions to public loans.
Such was the financial policy, induced by necessity, of the Confederate States and by the Continental Congress in the war for American independence, with like result of immediate depreciation and ultimate repudiation, though the Confederate cause failed while that of the Federated Colonies triumphed.

The German policy simply consists in passing tokens of indebtedness from government to people and people to government by an endless chain which conveys backward and forward an ever multiplying frigate of "scraps of paper" on which are printed a mere acknowledgment that as between Germany and Germans these counters are to be considered as money. The government hands them out to the manufacturers of guns and munitions, to the farmers for their horses and the miller for his corn, and the manufacturer passes them back to the government for war loans. The inordinate consumption of these supplies calls for new purchases in greater quantities and these are paid for with another issue of paper, and the process of the printing presses, and then again the perpetually swelling stream flows backward to its source, another forced loan reabsorbs into the public coffers the newly issued or quadrupled evidence that Germany and the Germans, one and indivisible, have mortgaged to each other their common future to the tune of so many more billions of I. O. U's, which can only be paid by one party to the transaction by impoverishing the other, and can only be discovered or discounted from face value in a final settlement by confiscating the labor and material which have formed the basis of all those vast transfers to and from between principal and agent. For beside the fact that not a dollar passes in any of them is the further fact that nothing passes which is representative of a dollar except the material the government takes from the people and consumes beyond the possibility of restoration. Outside of Germany the notes which are the only circulating medium within Germany have no status, and at home they are current only by requirement of law, neither the trading public nor the banks being permitted to deal in any other form of money.

The German policy will work for a time; but unless all human experience is at fault, the fiscal bubble it is blowing will arrive at the bursting point long before the purpose it was designed to further has been achieved.
So long as the nation is sufficient unto itself for the means of conducting such stupendous enterprises as Germany is engaged in the fatal defects of bottomless and limitless currency will not appear on the surface.
But the moment that Germany finds need to reach beyond her own internal resources and those of her neighboring allies to make good deficits in essentials for maintaining her armies—and that moment must come should the war be protracted for another year—her insubstantial financial structure will crumble as did that of John Law in France during the reign of the Regency. And should the fortunes of battle turn against her and the splendid offense which has carried her flag into the territories of all her Continental enemies be reversed, the collapse of her financial machinery will be as sudden and complete as was that of the Confederacy after Vicksburg fell and Gettysburg was lost.

DOES GERMANY
WANT PEACE?

Although the Kaiser and his councillors emphatically deny that Germany is ready to listen to proposals for peace, there is much smoke, so much that many close observers believe the Kaiser has enough of war and would welcome a cessation of hostilities could it be done in a way to enable the nation to withdraw with honor. The Newport News, Va., News-Press in this connection says:

The rumor from London that Prince von Buelow, former German Chancellor, will shortly submit to President Wilson and King Alfonso of Spain an outline of the conditions on which Germany might be disposed to discuss terms of peace is denied by von Buelow. We do not doubt that Germany would be very glad to make peace upon terms fairly favorable to herself. Germany has made a gallant fight, and magnificent resistance against the mighty powers attacking her. But what has she accomplished beyond preventing invasion of her own territory? She set out to besiege and capture Paris with a rush. But she failed.

She has sent balloons across the English channel and dropped bombs upon the place beneath. But beyond slaying a few women and children and wrecking a building here and there nothing has been accomplished.
She has sunk a number of the ships of England, but she has not in any degree impaired the British navy, nor seriously embarrassed English commerce. Nor has she succeeded in undermining her own ships of war and her ships of commerce.

She has made savage drives at the Russians and forced them back, but it has been at tremendous cost to herself in men and money. And the Russians say that in spite of the obstinacy and persistence of Germany, the German army is still confronted by a Russian army which fully retains its strength, its morale and its ability not only to offer staunch and successful resistance, but to assume the offensive again and inflict terrible blows.

This is said in no disparagement of the discipline and daring of the German forces. But it is plain that Germany has fought much and accomplished little in really profitable results. Germany with all her fighting and her loss of men is as far as ever from deliverance from her enemies.
It would not be surprising, therefore, should Germany sue for honorable peace. But would the allies be willing to call the fight a draw, or anything like that? We think not. We rather think that the allies have a big stick in pickle for the Teutons.

PRESIDENT'S SPEECH

President Wilson opened the Administration campaign for its national defense program in a comprehensive and carefully prepared address delivered last night at the Manhattan Club banquet, in New York. He declared solemnly that the United States had no aggressive purpose, but must be prepared to defend itself to assume "full liberty and self-development." Significantly, he said that "with ourselves in this great matter we associate all the peoples of our own hemisphere," adding that "we wish not only for the United States, but for them the fullest freedom of independent growth of action."

Among other things the President said:

May I not say, that there is another danger that we should guard against? We should rebuke not only manifestations of racial feeling here in America where there should be none, but also every manifestation of religious and sectarian antagonism.
It does not become America that within her borders, where every man is free to follow the dictates of his conscience and worship God as he pleases, men should raise the cry of church against church. To do that is to strike at the very spirit and heart of America. We are a God fearing people. We agree to differ about methods of worship, but we are united in believing in Divine Providence and in worshipping the God of Nations.
We are the champions of religious right here and everywhere that I may be our privilege to give it our countenance and support. The Government is conscious of the obligation and the nation is conscious of the obligation. Let no man create divisions where there are none.

Bulwer in his "Eugene Arane" quotes the following from the Spectator: "Some people have only enough religion to make them hate their fellow-creatures." It may be safely said that when church is fighting church there is little spirituality in either.

razor. He then killed himself by the months old daughter.

The Cork steamer Avocet, which has arrived at Manchester, tells of a 35-minute engagement with three German aeroplanes on the morning of October 30. One of the aeroplanes was a large battleplane, which dropped 36 bombs, some of which missed the steamer, by not more than 7 feet.
When the bombs were exhausted the battleplane fired on the Avocet with a machine gun. The ship's sides and decks were struck by bullets, but all the crew escaped injury.

William V. Cleary, former Democratic "boss" of Rockland county, N.
Y., who was acquitted a year ago of killing his son in law, a youth who had secretly married his daughter, was arrested in Union Station, Washington, yesterday. Cleary was turned over to an attaché of Rockland county's district attorney's office and taken back to Haverstraw, N. Y., his former home, to answer a charge of malfeasance as town clerk, about $10,000 being involved.

"If Prince von Buelow former German chancellor and the supposed peace agent of the kaiser, attempt to cross the Atlantic to get peace proposals before President Wilson, he will be placed under arrest by the crews of Anglo-French warships." This was the warning printed in nearly all the Paris newspapers, yesterday. They declared further that every effort would be made to prevent Prince von Buelow from making his way into Spain from Switzerland.

CASE AFTER CASE

Plenty More Like This in Alexandria.

Scores of Alexandria people can tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills.
Many a happy citizen makes a public statement of his experience. Here is a case of it. What better proof of merit can be had than such endorsement?

W. Dawson, blacksmith, 409 N.
West St., Alexandria, says: "My back was so weak and sore that I could hardly pick anything off the floor. I couldn't straighten up without taking hold of something and it nearly killed me to get up in the morning. Sharp shooting pains caught me in the small of my back and I thought I would have to give up. Finally I started using Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from C. W.
Sumner, Drug Store, and the first few doses convinced me that they were the medicine I needed. After finishing one box, my back felt so strong that I could work all day and not feel any the worse for it. Now, I take Doan's Kidney Pills as soon as my kidneys get a little bit out of order, for I know there isn't anything their equal."

WOMAN FIGHTS BULLDOG.

Chicago Mother, In Battle To Save Child's Life, Is Badly Bitten.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—In a thrilling fight yesterday with two bulldogs, the prize specimen of her husband's kennels, Mrs. C. T. Dunkle, probably saved the life of her 2 year old son Jack, but was herself badly bitten. Physicians said tonight the little boy was in a precarious condition, but might recover.

Jack was playing in the back yard, when attacked by the dogs. His screams attracted Mrs. Dunkle, who when she ran to his rescue also was attacked by the animals.

Fighting them off as best she could, the mother dragged her baby step by step to the kitchen door, where a maid helped her get the boy inside and close the door. The maid also was bitten.

The physician summoned found the dogs on guard at the front door and was forced to enter the house by means of a ladder, stretched from the front sidewalk to a second-story window.

The services of six policemen were required to corner and kill the dogs.

HARD TIMES AHEAD

German Paper Warns Readers Not to Indulge in Cheers of Victory

Berlin, Nov. 3.—The unusual military criticism allowed to appear in some of the German papers simultaneously with an enthusiastic comment in the semi-official organs commenting on a "food crisis," is a situation arising not only from efforts of the enemies, but also from the greed of the German food barons. Both Harden, in the Zunkunft, and Gadke, in the Voorwaerts warn their compatriots not to indulge in cheers of victory, inasmuch as there are hard times ahead. Harden says:

"We do not want usurers, who take advantage of the needs of the masses, who are seeking modest and indispensable food. He who coins meat, corn or vegetables is a downright rascal. He who stores butter, hoping that the price will rise higher, belongs to the galleys."

Gadke says: "Let us beware of overestimating the initial successes in Serbia. We must remember that once before Belgrade was in Austrian hands and the Austrian army came to grief."

FOUR AMERICANS KILLED.

Villa Reports Two Doctors and Two Chauffeurs Shot by Calles's Troops.

Naco, Ariz. Nov. 5.—Francisco Villa with 3,000 of his troops defeated on Monday at Aguaprieta by the forces of General P. Elias Calles, Carranza commander there, reached Naco, across the border from here yesterday, and told American officers that four Americans were shot down by Calles's troops while succoring wounded under a Red Cross flag in front of the breastworks at Aguaprieta. Villa also announced that Naco would be the capital of Mexico.

The Americans killed were, according to Villa, Dr. R. O. Tighen, chief surgeon of the Cananea Consolidated Copper Company; his assistant, Dr. Miller, and two American chauffeurs, J. D. Pylant and A. L. Wilson.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids.

It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place. Most headaches, "biliousness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "tired" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. At 10c and 50c per box. All druggists. TWO MEN KILLED.

Scaffold on Which They Were Standing Falls Forty Feet.

Two men were killed and another badly hurt this morning when a scaffold on which they were working at the Asbury M. E. Church (colored) Eleventh and K streets northwest, Washington gave way, the men falling about forty feet.

John Silt, a stone mason, who lived in Baltimore county, was so seriously hurt that he died shortly after being taken to Emergency Hospital.

Harry Belt, a carpenter, of Hyattsville, and a colored man named Walker were the other two injured. Belt died later at the hospital and Walker is said to be in a dangerous condition.
